Who Are We?

Questions about Special Education?

Call or email us anytime. Volunteers at the Woburn Special Education Parent Advisory Council (SEPAC) can connect you to resources that explain the special education process and your child's rights, direct you to tools that will help you become a stronger advocate for your child, or to find outside help.

We can even connect you with other families of students with disabilities.

STUDENTS: We are a resource for you too!

The Woburn SEPAC (Special Education Parent Advisory Council) is a group of volunteers who dedicate time to act as a resource for parents.

We regularly meet with the school administration to discuss issues that affect the education, health, and safety of students with disabilities from ages 3 to 22 years. The more people we hear from, the better we can advise the district on concerns in Woburn.
